

GEORGE DEITRICK DIES SUDDENLY OF ACUTE INDIGESTION

Veteran Police Officer Succumbs After Attack at His Home Last Night
WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

Officer Had Wide Acquaintance As Night Sergeant of Police

George Deitrick, Bristol's well-known night sergeant of police, died at midnight after having been stricken three hours previously with acute indigestion.

Mr. Deitrick was born in Northumberland County, Pa., March 18, 1869, and was the son of Charles and Sarah Deitrick. He and his family moved to Bristol about 22 years ago.

After first moving here, Mr. Deitrick was employed in local industries and was also employed as fireman for a number of years at the Croydon power house of the Trenton, Bristol & Philadelphia Street Railway Company. Previous to moving here the deceased was engaged for many years as fire boss in the Maria Colliery, nine miles from Pottsville. He was also a fireman on the Reading Railroad for several years.

Just previous to being stricken, Mr. Deitrick had been engaged with his family in preparing a Christmas box to be forwarded to relatives, and he had taken especial delight in anticipating the Christmas season.

Mr. Deitrick joined the police force October 27, 1917, and had been so engaged ever since. He had a wide acquaintance here and was noted for his jolly disposition and good nature. He was on duty each night that the Farmers National Bank was open as a special guard there.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, three sons and six grandchildren.

Mr. Deitrick was preparing to leave his home to go on duty last night, shortly before 9 o'clock. He sat down at a table and the attention of the members of his family was attracted when he did not arise to go to police headquarters. They spoke to him and he began to rub his face and body. A physician was summoned and the deceased was put to bed. He died at midnight.

Funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late home of the deceased, 619 Pine street. The Rev. George F. Hess, pastor of the Methodist Church, will be in charge. Burial will be made in the Bristol Cemetery.

FEAST OF CHRISTMAS DAY IS ALREADY BEING PLANNED FOR, WITH THE BRISTOL MERCHANTS ASSISTING MUCH WITH FINE ARRAY OF GOODS

Including today there are only 5 shopping days to Christmas.

By "Gift Seeker"

The feast is ready! Well, in imagination it is anyway. For Mother and I thought for a long while last night and planned and then planned some more. And it's going to surpass them all. Just wait and see. That turkey will be a big, well-browned fellow when he is placed on the feasting board. And the filling and gravy will be all that could be desired.

We weren't sure just what vegetables to decide upon, for the grocers gave ideas upon ideas in their array of fresh and canned goods. Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, sweet and white potatoes, onions, carrots, turnips, peas, crushed corn, beans done up in various styles, egg-plant to be temptingly stewed, and many, many more

Entertains Sewing Class At Christmas Party

HULMEVILLE, Dec. 19.—Miss Kathryn Polenberg, of Main street, entertained the members of the sewing class with which she is affiliated at her home on Monday evening, the affair taking the form of a Christmas party.

The decorations were very beautiful. A large white paper tree sparkled with imitation ice from the light of four large red candles placed on four corners of the table. The table under and around the tree was covered with snow. The favors were boxes of candy attractively wrapped.

After refreshments were served everyone exchanged gifts. All present expressed themselves as having a very enjoyable evening.

MAN-MADE ISLAND TO BE USED AS LANDING

Allentown Man Believes He Has Perfect Plans For Such A Scheme

TO BE 6,000 FT. SQUARE

By Leo Dolan

L. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Out of an idyllic musings in an office that overlooked the ancient quay in Marseilles, France, during the World War, has come the nucleus of an idea for the construction of a man-made island in the mid-Atlantic to serve as a safe landing place for trans-oceanic planes and as a haven for storm-tossed ships.

More than ten years ago, Lynn J. Koch, of Allentown, then a member of the 116th Engineers, 41st Division, A. E. F., sat in an office in Marseilles, idly watching the unceasing flow of traffic across the famous old quay. And as he watched, the question arose in his mind—would it not be feasible to construct a seawall of that type, topped with a boulevard, as the foundation of an artificial island in mid-ocean?

Koch's idea stayed with him and he stayed with it. Years of exhaustive research work and close study of the marine problems involved have resulted in what Koch believes are perfect plans and specifications for his "floating airdrome oceanic navigable island."

The proposed island would be a combination airport and harbor. It would be unanchored, yet would not drift, would not tilt and would not be affected by the ebb and flow of the tides.

The plans call for the island to be 6,000 feet square and 380 feet high. The body would be constructed of air-tanks encased in concrete and reinforced by steel girders. The central portion of the island would be submerged at all times and would serve as the harbor, the depth of which would be controlled by the air pressure in the tanks. Calm water would be assured by the peculiar shape of the harbor and ocean liners could enter and dock under their own power.

Air landing fields, 380 feet above sea level, would extend along the two sides of the island, giving a surface total of 6,000 by 1,000 feet. Under the fields would be hangar space, machine shops and promenade docks. Space also would be provided for hotels, shops, homes and warehouses.

The entire island would be held in place by a star-shaped pivot head sunk to a depth of 2,000 feet under the main body and fastened to the supporting columns of the island. Because of its peculiar shape, Koch believes the pivot head would hold the floating island in place forever.

Unique Yuletide Entertainment to Be Presented on Friday Evening

FOLKS OF MANY LANDS

The annual Christmas cantata given by the Sunday School of the First Baptist Church this year is called the "Christmas Review." The program will be presented Friday evening.

As the name implies it is a review of the way Christmas is celebrated in various countries.

There are over 50 children in the cantata dressed in the costumes of the country they represent. The scenes are introduced by a Christmas dwarf impersonated by Carl Foell.

There are ten scenes. The first scene is the Nativity, a beautiful, impressive scene. "Mary" is Gladys Arison; the three shepherds, V. Milnor, M. Smith and S. Mount; the three wise men, John Tomlinson, Clarence Smith, Mason Jones. Soprano and alto duet will be given by Mildred Dyer, Roberta Pearson.

The second scene is in Germany. Kris Kringle visits the home. If the children were bad, they received switches, if good, toys. The mother is Mrs. Russell Johnson; children, Anita Wallace, Ida Roberts, Mary Muffett, Gladys Welk, Ronald Argus, Elwood Dyer.

The third scene is in Holland. The "Maid of Amsterdam" are Margaret Quinn, Ruth Weik, Thelma Weik, Janice Muffett and Doris Hendricks.

The fourth scene depicts Christmas in Norway. In Norway on Christmas eve a sheep is hung from a pole in front of the house as a gift to the birds. Girls in scene are Betty Price, Noma Johnson, Ida Roberts, Anita Wallace, Hazel Bobs, Janice Cole, Betty Lovett.

The fifth scene shows Christmas in England. Young people known as "Waits" sing carols beneath the windows on Christmas eve. Characters are: "Dame Kent," Mrs. Russell Johnson; "Waits," Mildred Dyer, Roberta Pearson, Beatrice Williams, Vera Donnell, Mildred Randall, Gladys Arison.

The sixth scene is "The Plantation Christmas." Servants were given a holiday to make merry. Boys in this scene are: Fred Randall, Tom Muffett, Charles Hughes, George McLean, Wilber Campbell, Joseph Heath, Richard Doyle, Howard Zepp, Jr.

The seventh scene features Christmas cooks: Mary Muffett, Mary Watson, Lucy Fenton, Harriet Endelman, Catherine Quinn.

THIRD ANNUAL FARM PRODUCTS SHOW AT NATIONAL FARM SCHOOL IS FINEST EVER VIEWED IN THE EAST, IS OPINION

Five Hundred Exhibits, Including Livestock, Are Attracting Much Interest — Farmers From All Sections of Bucks County Are Urged to Attend and View the Exhibit

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 19.—That the third annual farm products and livestock show of the National Farm School is one of the finest ever viewed in the East was the opinion of specialists from several universities and farm colleges who judged and inspected the exhibits yesterday.

The show was opened to the public this morning and will be open tonight and all day Friday and Saturday night. Close to 500 separate exhibits are to be found in the well-arranged show that is held this year in the new Administration and Farm Mechanics Building, the show place of the campus.

"Farmers from every section of Bucks county should avail themselves of the unusual opportunity to attend this show," a State College expert said yesterday. "It is an education to pass through the various departments. In fact, it is nothing short of marvelous—the manner in which the students of Farm School have advanced along every line of agriculture. Bucks county is fortunate in having an advantage over other counties in having a clinic for farmers near the county seat. And when I say clinic, I mean the advice that farmers need everywhere."

Tonight at 7.30 there will be a special free moving picture show for farmers in the school gymnasium. There will be nine reels showing various problems of the farm. The exhibition from the State Department of Agriculture showing Bureau of Animal Husbandry is a most complete one and is the center of much discussion among students and farmers.

The state department exhibit principally has to do with various diseases, including hog cholera, cattle abortion and tuberculosis among fowl. Various specimens are on exhibition. One of the interesting exhibits in the center of the building is a group of peach trees of the same variety, one, two, three and four years old, showing advantage of proper pruning methods. A large apple tree is to be found in the exhibit, showing the proper method of grafting.

There are 175 birds in the poultry show in the basement of the new building. All entries were selected by the students of the school, who will compete against each other in various judging contests. The National Farm School Poultry Club members will also take a part in the show. There are 150 exhibits of corn and forty-eight exhibits of potatoes. The apple show is of better quality than ever before. There are over 100 separate exhibits.

Bee culture, spray demonstrations for the killing of fungus growth are among the other departments of the show.

Judges for the show are as follows: Fruits, vegetables and landscape, County Farm Agent W. A. Greenwald, Doylestown; farm produce, Prof. E. J. Walters, State College; poultry, M. M. West, Lansdale; horses and cattle, Dr. H. W. Turner, New Hope; floriculture, Milton C. Diley, Easton.

WARN AGAINST TRAGEDY AT YULETIDE SEASON

Apparently Harmless Decorations and Toys Sometimes Cause Fires

T A K E PRECAUTIONS

General Manager, National Board of Fire Underwriters

Into the holiday atmosphere tragedy all too often forces its way. Just a slight lack of foresight in preparing for Christmas, a little careless act, may quickly change a joyous occasion into a nightmare.

Consider the case of little Johnny, whose parents gave him an electric train for Christmas. The tree and the room in which it was placed were elaborately decorated and beautifully trimmed out, unfortunately, with inflammable materials. There was a considerable amount of cotton under the tree, and one section of the track of the toy train ran under the tree very close to the cotton. The controlling apparatus was also located under the tree.

No one knows just how it happened, but quite likely a "short circuit" caused the rheostat to heat up quickly. It was on Christmas afternoon. The boy and his mother were the only ones at home. She had left the room for a few minutes. When the train refused to move, Johnny went to the control switch to see what was the matter. At this instant the heat ignited the cotton, which communicated the flames to the decorations and to the boy's clothing. The fire spread rapidly, enveloped the tree, and reached the window curtains.

Summoned by his shrieks, the mother ran into the room to find it all ablaze and the flames from the boy's clothing licking his face. She was able to save him by putting him on the floor and rolling him in a small rug, but when she had carried him out of the house she found that he was badly burned. He may carry some of the scars as long as he lives.

Before the firemen could extinguish the flames the entire front of the house had been burned out, the contents badly damaged, and considerable loss and inconvenience caused.

This story deals with but one of the many Christmas fire hazards. Most of

Enters Suit to Recover $347,000 on Contract

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 19.—Suit was filed in the Philadelphia civil courts yesterday in an action brought by Marshall W. Taylor, owner of the Taylors Farm, near here, against the Stanley Company of America for $347,000 alleged due him on a contract made with the Zimmerman Estate several years ago at a reported salary of $22,500 per year.

At his farm here yesterday Mr. Taylor confirmed the news dispatch that suit had been started through his attorney, Francis Shunk Brown, of Philadelphia. The Zimmerman Estate is involved indirectly in the matter, Arthur S. Arnold representing the estate as counsel.

Taylor is suing for the balance coming to him on the contract which has fifteen years and six months to run. He was engaged by the Zimmerman Estate to be supervisor of the Orpheum, Fairmount, Liberty and Edgemont Theatres, Chester, with a provision that if the houses would be sold the contract would be assumed by the purchaser.

It is reported that Stanley's attitude, according to "The Exhibitor," the official motion picture magazine of Philadelphia, "is to the effect that the organization is not concerned with his contract, but that it is a matter for the Zimmerman Estate to handle."

A settlement for over $100,000 has been offered in the case but has been refused. The case is listed to come up on the Common Pleas court calendar in Philadelphia in a short time.

FLYING ROTARIANS HELD UP BY FOG AND SOGGY FIELD

Weather Conditions Unfavorable for Flight to Washington, D. C.

TO GREET NEW SENATOR

Flight is Now Planned for Tomorrow Morning, if The Weather Permits

It was announced at one o'clock this afternoon that due to weather conditions the proposed flight to Washington by the 30 Bristol Rotarians had been indefinitely postponed.

Weather conditions this morning were such that the proposed flight of the 30 members of the Bristol Rotary Club to Washington to extend greetings to United States Senator, Joseph R. Grundy, had to be postponed. It is now planned to take off from the Keystone Airport here tomorrow morning, if the weather permits.

More Rotarians have signified their intention of going on the trip than the capacity of the two planes will accommodate. This will make it necessary to draw lots so as to determine just who shall go. The names will be placed in a hat and the first 25 drawn out will be selected to take the flight. The others will not be able to go.

Senator Grundy will meet the flying Rotarians on Bolling Field and will there be presented with resolutions of felicitations from his fellow club members.

The flight was originally scheduled for today but due to the excessive rains of yesterday it was considered advisable not to attempt to take the two big "Patricians" off from the Keystone airport when the grounds were likely to be somewhat soggy.

The planes which are to be used are the Wright "Flying Office" and the Keystone transport "Patrician" constructed for the Transcontinental Air Transport airlines.

The Wright company's "Flying Office" is finished in silk damask of a masculine design, with walnut paneling between the floor and the window sills. This airplane is equipped with large leather upholstered directors' chairs that can be shifted to any position to suit the occupant, and turned around to face each other for use with tables that may be placed as required. This airplane is equipped with a galley in which an electric range, fireless cooker, chemical ice box, running water, etc., are provided for serving meals enroute. The "Flying Office" may be converted to provide sleeping accommodations while enroute if desired. The color of this airplane is black fuselage with international orange wings.

The T. A. T. Transport is a twenty-passenger passenger airplane which is luxuriously equipped with all the conveniences for passengers for aerial transportation. The side walls and ceiling are covered with figured damask with reindeer design damask panels in the forward compartment. The color scheme is henna and green, with henna upholstered chairs. The cabin is completely equipped with reading lamps and general lighting for night service and the passengers' instrument board is mounted on a beautiful "Aclite" panel. The courier's compartment and baggage room are separated from the cabin by damask portieres of figured design. The courier's compartment is equipped with facilities for serving light lunch enroute. The lavatory is fully equipped and located in the rear of the main cabin. The color scheme of the T. A. T. "Patrician" is yellow wings, with Keystone green fuselage and engine nacelles.

Both of the above airplanes are of approximately the same dimensions and have a span of eighty-six feet. Each ship is equipped with three Wright "Cyclone" engines of 525 h. p. each. These airplanes are capable of making a speed of 140 miles per hour.

PLAY POSTPONED

"The Womanless Wedding," which was to be staged at the Second Baptist Church this evening, has been postponed until further notice.

TO GIVE SOCIAL

LATEST NEWS

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—(INS)—Death and widespread suffering, accompanied by demoralized traffic conditions, rode in the wake of a terrific blizzard that held the Midwest in its grip today. Snowfall that began Tuesday night, and borne on a fifty-mile gale, was still being piled in huge drifts along city streets, highways and railroad right-of-way throughout a dozen central states. Eleven deaths in the Chicago district alone were directly or indirectly attributed to the storm. Other deaths, principally from traffic accidents, were reported from neighboring states.

SO ALL MAY EAT

The farms of the United States produced this year more than eight thousand million dollars' worth of foodstuffs and raw materials for the making of clothing and other necessary articles. That tremendous volume of wealth was literally created; it represented no mere juggling of money or clever bookkeeping to take the appearance or enrichment.

In these astounding achievements of agriculture are found the bases of the prosperity and the greatness of the nation. The assurance of food heartens everyone. Nobody need be hungry. Then all may strive together, each in his peculiar way. The miners may bring forth the ore; the craftsmen may fashion it. Foresters may bring timber, and the builders shape it. All the activities in which civilized peoples busy themselves may go forward to produce the tremendous output and income of our miraculous country because the workers can be fed.

This is the reason that agriculture always has been held in respect in America. The people of the United States know the source of their bread and butter.

INTERESTING "ADS"

We have been reading proofs of the Christmas shopping "ads" of Bristol stores that will appear in the Courier today.

They are as interesting as anything that one may peruse these days, for they speak not only of the approaching yuletide, with all that means, but they illustrate as well the rapid growth of the city and its development.

Sometimes we are apt to think of the modern Bristol in terms only of population and of public improvements—street paving, parks, public playgrounds and a dozen other items of the kind.

But the real earmark of the progressive city is its stores.

The real badge of prosperity is the type of retail stores a city boasts.

The advertising columns of the newspaper of today demonstrate the fact that Bristol has stores of which any city may be proud and as metropolitan as those of many boasting larger population. And the stores themselves are as interesting as the "ads."

Anybody ever hear a flapper sing "Home, Sweet Home?"

Nobody can see a man who is all wrapped up in himself.

Granddad may have been a sod buster, but not on the golf links.

Who remembers when a girl with an unattractive face had to let it go at that?

College girls are taking up boxing. They wrestle, also, but it is called dancing.

The reformer should be patient with us. After all, the world's wickedness keeps him in a job.

Mother kept that school-girl complexion by occasionally walking five or ten miles past a lot of drug stores.

What does a bucket shop proprietor think about when he reads that bank deposits have gone up in the last year?

Bright reds and greens, the joyous faces of children, gifts and happy greetings, the music of carolers and of distant chiming—a snowy whiteness over all... IN THE SEASON'S CHEERFUL SPIRIT WE GREET YOU ALL!

Friends: Another year has rolled around, another Christmas season is with us, bringing good cheer and happiness. May we all lay away, if only for an hour, the cares and responsibilities of our busy lives and remember our friends with a pleasant thought and a kindly greeting. I chanced upon a few lines recently, penned by an unknown author, that to me contain the very essence of a successful life. Here they are and I hope that you may enjoy them as much as I do.

I expect to pass thru this world but once.

Any good thing, therefore, that I can do,

Or any kindness that I can show a fellow being,

Let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it,

For I shall not pass this way again."

The man who conforms his life to the above code, has gone a long way in solving the riddle of the ages—how to be happy.

This, then, is my Christmas greeting to you, my unseen reader; may you find the secret of happiness, and may contentment and prosperity be your portions of life.

The Season's Wishes

Just around the corner

From Christmas week,

Comes the New Year,

Trying to peek

Into Christmas packages

Wanting to find

A new sort of wish

In a Christmas rhyme,

Yet what better greeting

Than we are wishing you

Than ye Olde time merrie Christmas

And a Happy New Year, too!

Christmas Chimes

Across the rare and frosty air,

The chimes come softly stealing;

And as they ring, their voices bring

A surge of varied feeling.

At first they fall and seem to call

Across a vale of tears.

Ah, mournful chimes, they tell of times

When Life was dark with fears!

But hark; within their plaintive din

There steals the golden voice

Of Hope; and lo! with fervent glow,

They one and all rejoice.

Ring out, glad bells! your chorus tells

Of Him whose wondrous birth

Brought hope to all, both great and small,

And peace to man on earth!

SOCIAL AND DANCE

A social and dance will be held Saturday night in the club rooms of the Young Men's Association on Radcliffe street.

Warn Against Tragedy

At Yuletide Season

the others are equally serious and disastrous. Here are a few of the "don'ts" which fire prevention engineers of the National Board recommend:

Don't trim trees with inflammable decorations. Slow burning and fire proof products, such as metal tinsel, flake asbestos and powdered mica may now be purchased, with the safety feature added to their beautifying effect. The same rule should be observed in the decoration of rooms.

Don't set up the Christmas tree without taking care to fasten it securely so that there will be no danger of it toppling over.

Don't play lively games during the festivities in the room where the Christmas tree is located.

Don't use electric light sets that are not standardized equipment.

Don't hang electric bulbs on the tree in contact with anything that could be ignited by their heat. Although electric tree lights are usually safe if properly installed, a colored spotlight focused on the tree is the safest of all and produces a very beautiful effect.

Don't attempt any special wiring for Christmas unless the national code is followed.

Don't use electric toys and appliances carelessly.

Don't use lighted candles on the Christmas tree or anywhere else.

Don't let Santa Claus himself be a fire hazard. Oftentimes his costume

Feast of Christmas Day Is Already Being Planned For

and other small items that are so necessary.

And then there are so many delightful suggestions for dessert, and I mean to look over some of the recipes tonight and decide just what ingredients will be needed. Will it be a pudding of some sort, a frozen custard, one made of fresh fruits, or still something much different? Intriguing questions! But it is such great fun.

We haven't forgotten to make note of filberts, cream nuts, English walnuts, peanuts, almonds, pecans; and then figs, dates, glazed orange and lemon peel, hard candies and chocolate covered nuts, fruits and creams.

But the best part of all the planning is that ordering is made so easy by the many grocers here who have stocked their shelves with a bigger variety than ever for holiday buying. They are in some cases keeping their stores open for longer periods during the day and evening, and hiring extra sales-people to facilitate their customers' tasks.

And at any of these stores will be found courteous, willing hands to aid in the Christmas food buying: John F. Wear, Bath and Buckley streets; Brudon-Wallace & Company, Mill street; Philip Reed's, Bath and Millin streets; Samuel H. Turner, Cedar and Market streets; Fred Rockey, 238 Mill street; American Stores Company's establishments on Mill, Buckley, Washington streets, and Farragut avenue; C. F. Weller, Edgely.

State News

LEWISBURG, Pa., Dec. 19.—(INS)—The spring conference of the Middle Atlantic group of the Intercollegiate Press Association will be held with the Bucknellian, student publication of Bucknell University, it was announced here today.

The Bucknellian announced that the convention will be held the early part of May, and that the definite date will be set by a committee of the group. There will be representatives present from 18 colleges, and Bucknell will select a chairman for all meetings. Newspapermen will be asked to cooperate in the various programs.

At the fall meeting held with George Washington University at Washington, the Bucknellian won awards for producing the best college editorials and news stories during the fall.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 19.—(INS)—Friday, the thirteenth, has no terrors for Bobby Hanson, youngest son of Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College.

Bobby was thirteen years of age on Friday, December 13, and entertained thirteen other members of the Boone Troop of Boy Scouts on that day.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—(INS)—Harry Williams, 22, young gasoline manager, has all the thespian talents necessary to an actor facing an appreciative audience. But when that audience is composed of a few hard-boiled detectives Harry doesn't register so well.

Harry was describing a "bold hold-up" at the station which netted the thieves $82.45.

"Three yeggs they were," Harry said. "Yes, sir, three hardboiled yeggs. They flashed around the corner and up in front of the station in a big car. Bingo, just like that, one of 'em shoved a gun in my ribs. I tried to argue with them but they were three to one. So they just scooped up the money and beat it."

It was such a good story the detectives asked him to repeat it. Harry did. For good measure he gestured graphically just how the bandit held a gun against him.

But the enthralled detectives demanded another encore. Harry found it too much.

"It's a lie," he sobbed. "I stole the money myself. I wanted to get married so I just took it."

Harry was held for larceny.

TREVERTON, Pa., Dec. 19.—(INS)—"I wish," said Stephen Mort wistfully to George Mitchell, "I wish we would see a bear."

Mort and Mitchell, guns on shoulder, were hunting in a wooded section of Potter County. They were hunting deer, but like most deer hunters they were praying for the sight of a bear.

Suddenly a big black bear broke through the underbrush and stood up. The bear looked at Mort, Mort looked at Mitchell. Both looked again at the bear and decided that feet were made to use.

The last the amazed bear saw of Mort and Mitchell the nimrods were streaking it for safety. They had "seen" their bear.

"KONJOLA WENT
RIGHT TO SOURCE OF MY TROUBLES"

Coatesville Lady Says Ailment of Long Standing Yielded Quickly to Master Medicine

MRS. CORA B. RICE

"Konjola did wonders in my case, which was a stubborn one," said Mrs. Cora B. Rice, 147 Chestnut street, Coatesville, Pa. "For a long time I suffered with stomach trouble. Hardly anything I ate agreed with me. Constipation was another of my troubles, and I had a tired, sluggish feeling practically all of the time."

"Other members of my family took Konjola and got results, and they insisted that I give it a trial. I, too, got results. In fact, Konjola seemed to go right to the source of my troubles. I never suffer from stomach trouble any more. Constipation has left me. I do not have that tired, worn-out feeling any more and have much more energy to do my work. I can truthfully say Konjola is the best medicine that ever entered our home."

Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hoffman's Cut Rate store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)
